

Association of British Schools
in Chile

Educational Conference ABSCH 2024

Time	Activity	Place and details
8:30 to 09.00	Register and reception	Central patio
09.00 to 10.30	Emma Kell Well-being and self-care for educational professionals: taking care of your most precious resource: yourself. Recognise your signs of stress, protect your well-being, maintain perspective, the power of positive relationships and help others understand how to get the best of you.	Addressed to Senior School teachers Talk in English with simultaneous translation Jean Jackson Hall
	Juan Cristóbal Cobo How to prepare ourselves to teach and learn in the era of artificial intelligence? We will address the consideration of tools for teachers in the digital field, as well as the understanding of the associated responsibilities and the importance of educational institutions in the training of digital citizens. We will take into account age-wise guidelines, including the anti-screen movement that is currently generating confusion.	Addressed to Infant and Junior School teachers Talk in English (No translation) Hernán Rivas Hall
10.30 to 11.00	Coffee y exhibition
11.10 to 12:10	María Cristina Escobar Preparing our students for the changes they face in this digital society is our challenge. How do we deal with it in our classrooms? We will review the challenges based on the description that ISTE standards define, to integrate technology in a timely and meaningful way into our learning activities.	Addressed to teacher of all levels Talk in Spanish (No translation) Chapel

EDUSMART
Educación y Tecnología

nivel4

Marcia Espinosa

Tools from Positive Psychology to achieve greater well-being in the teaching profession.

In recent years, the school environment has become very challenging for teachers, given the deterioration of mental health of students, with the consequent need to incorporate new tools in an often complex and highly stressful environment. For them it is necessary to develop strategies to maintain the motivation and passion for teaching.

Addressed to teachers of all levels

Talk in Spanish
(No translation)

Hernán Rivas Hall

Yalile Said

Educational inclusion in private schools in Chile: current challenges and perspectives.

Challenges and emerging scenarios in the implementation of new school inclusion regulations.

Addressed to teachers of all levels

Talk in Spanish
(No translation)

Jean Jackson Hall

12.15 to 13.45

Emma Kell

Well-being and self-care for educational professionals: taking care of your most precious resource: yourself.

Recognise your signs of stress, protect your well-being, maintain perspective, the power of positive relationships and help others understand how to get the best of you.

Addressed to Infant and Junior School teachers

Talk in English with simultaneous translation

Jean Jackson Hall

Juan Cristóbal Cobo

How to prepare ourselves to teach and learn in the era of artificial intelligence?

We will explore topics related to the education and AI, discussing both pedagogical opportunities and risks, such as copying and plagiarisms. We will also provide guidance to educational institutions and share experiences to navigate both the benefits and the challenges.

Addressed to Senior School teachers

Talk in Spanish
(No translation)

Hernán Rivas Hall

